FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LUNCHEON WITH BESTSELLING AUTHOR, PATTI CALLAHAN HENRY

(Panama City, Fla.) New York Times bestselling author, Patti Callahan Henry, is this year's guest speaker for the "Books and Bites" Luncheon. The engaging author event and book signing takes place on Friday, July 21st at 12 p.m. in the Bay County Public Library. A light lunch will be provided. Program is sponsored by the Friends of the Bay County Public Libraries. Register to attend the free "Books and Bites" luncheon by calling (850) 522-2100 or visiting the library.

Patti Callahan Henry has written twelve novels. Her most recent title, The Bookshop at Water's End, is the first book that references Patti Callahan Henry's early profession as a nurse. Doctor Bonny Blankenship makes a tragic mistake that threatens her career in the emergency room. She returns to her childhood summer home of Watersend, South Carolina with her best friend and her favorite book shop. The past and future become interwoven. Copies of The Bookshop at Water's End will be available for purchase at the luncheon through Books Unlimited.

The Bay County Public Library is located at 898 W. 11th Street, Panama City, FL 32401. Call 850-522-2100 or visit www.nwrls.com for more information.
